Fewer Productive Years Forecast For U.S. Worker

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI)—The working life of the average American has been telescoped to a point where he is likely to have only 14 good, productive years between the completion of his education and being regarded as "too old" for advancement, a sociologist claims.

Adr. Jesse J. Frankel, who left a successful career in business to study sociology at New York University and become a consultant in problems of older people while still in his early 40's, said in an interview that it is becoming increasingly apparent that the man over 40 loses out in the competition for success and prestige.

"The peak period of earning power is now telescoped from both ends," he said. "The number of years of education now considered necessary in this technological age is rapidly increasing and many more young people will be going to college."

A young man may therefore not complete his education till the age of 22, or even 24 or 25, if he needs further professional or scientific training. At the other end, he may begin to encounter discrimination against himself around the age of 40 if he should have to look for a new job.

He must therefore compress all his progress into approximately 15 years, instead of being able to look forward, as young men once could, to a lifetime of achievement. Our future, as it has been said, is no longer what it used to be."

Frankel regards this as a distressing situation because, as far as he is concerned, the classification of middle-age, once regarded as the time of a man's greatest expectations, has all but vanished. This means, he said, that the unemployed man over 40 now is classified "older." Employment discrimination against him is so prevalent that 10 states have laws protecting the civil right to work of persons between 40 and 65.

Even the now widely accepted retirement age of 65 should be outlawed, in Frankel's estimation. He feels that a person should be allowed to work as long as he is able to contribute something and wants to work.

In his practice as a private consultant, Frankel has guided a number of idle older men and women back to earning livelihoods. He is adamantly opposed to volunteer work by anyone of any age. Everyone should be paid something for any work he does, Frankel says.

"Old age clubs are all right in their place," he said, "but I'd like to see persons working during the day and going to a club in their leisure time. The terms 'senior citizen' and 'golden age' should be abolished and the clubs for these people must be regarded as places for constructive recreation, not adult kindergartens."

"We are a work oriented society. All our basic satisfactions in life are through work. We have 17 million older persons whose civil right to work is being chipped away. They must be reintegrated into the community without dizzy labels such as senior citizen and olderster."

"Did you ever hear of Mrs. Roosevelt, Bernard Baruch or General Eisenhower being called senior citizens?" They are regarded as useful older people and others belong in the same class."

OSLO—Norway has reduced import duty on antifreeze by 10 percent.

The bureau asked that the proposed building be "appropriately situated with respect to the buildings occupied by the legislative and executive branches of the government." This means the proposed building, "dedicated to the education of the people in the field of water," would be some place within the already crowded complex of government structures.

Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall passed the request for a long-term concession contract to Assistant Secretary John A. Carver, Jr., in charge of Public Land Management. Carver called in T. Sutton Jett, director of the National Capital Parks which has

No Place Seen For 'Gift' of Capital Building

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The idea of giving all public lands in the District of Columbia to the Bureau of Land Management as a gift to the United States appears to be real.

There is not enough available land in the area where the Bureau of Water Resources of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress wants to construct its monumental gift.

In January, trustees of the Bureau, a private group, agreed to ask the Interior Department for space on National Capital Parks land on which to build a proposed structure 360 feet by 285 feet, exclusive of grounds and parking areas.

The bureau asked that the proposed building be "appropriately situated with respect to the buildings occupied by the legislative and executive branches of the government." This means the proposed building, "dedicated to the education of the people in the field of water," would be some place within the already crowded complex of government structures.

Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall passed the request for a long-term concession contract to Assistant Secretary John A. Carver, Jr., in charge of Public Land Management. Carver called in T. Sutton Jett, director of the National Capital Parks which has nothing about the bureau's request.

William H. Webb, executive vice president of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, said no progress has been made on the building. He indicated none would be made until land becomes available.

The bureau of water resources submitted to the department an artist's conception sketch of the proposed gift. The bureau has not yet hired an architect and has no face major problems in their blueprints.

List of Hollywood Stars Seen in Tragic Deaths

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It was 25 years ago that Jean Harlow—another blonde who, like Marilyn Monroe, was the movie sex symbol of her generation—met an untimely death.

Miss Harlow, the finished product of private schools and a cloistered life, was only 25 when she died of uremic poisoning in June 1937. Miss Monroe, 36, an unwanted child shuttled through a dozen foster homes, was found dead in her bed Sunday, apparently the victim of an overdose of sleeping pills.

Miss Monroe and Miss Harlow, the finished products of private schools and a cloistered life, were only 25 when they died. Director Paul Bern, shot to death 10 weeks after they were wed.

Tragedy has cut short the careers of other young Hollywood stars, including:

James Dean—Killed in a sports car crash in 1955, at age 24, after achieving tremendous success in his first two movies.

Carole Lombard—Billed for more than a decade as a great light comedienne, she was only 32 when she died in a plane crash in 1942. Her death was a stunning blow to her husband, Clark Gable.

Lupe Velez—The Mexican Spitfire, whose first great love was the late Gary Cooper, was 34 when she committed suicide in 1944—because she didn't want to give birth to a child out of wedlock.

Carole Landis—Married and divorced four times, she was only 29 when her body was found in her Pacific Palisades home in 1948 by actor Rex Harrison. An empty bottle of sleeping pills was nearby.

Susan Peters—One of MGM's brightest young stars until a hunting accident paralyzed her from the waist down in 1944, she died in 1962, at the age of 31, from a kidney ailment.

Suzanne Ball—A pretty blonde starlet, she lost a leg in a valiant fight against cancer, and then her life, at age 21.

Robert Walker—A deeply troubled actor, once married to Jennifer Jones, he died in 1961 at 32, following a freak reaction to a sedative.

Failing to Report Accident Brings Fine

In Justice of the Peace James F. Quine's court Monday, William Bruce Ward, 20, of Ft. Carson was fined $20 and costs for failing to report an accident Friday.

He was ticketed 20 miles south of Colorado Springs on Colorado Highway 115 by State Patrolman Al Smith.

Police Officer W. Miller gave a summons Aug. 2, to Glenn Jackson, 20, of Boulder Street, for having no operator's license.

Jackson, 18, of 618 N. Corona was fined $6 and costs.

New Recreation Development to Be Proposed

By JOHN KAMPS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Proposed legislation aimed at increasing outdoor recreation resources is expected to move along in Congress this week.

A House Interior subcommittee has on its agenda for today a bill to set up an outdoor recreation program, including $50 million in federal grants to states.

The Senate may take up a companion measure, which was approved by its Interior Committee Wednesday.

The bills were introduced at the request of the Kennedy administration by the chairmen of the Senate and House Interior Committees, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., and Rep. Wayne Aspinall, D-Colo. The Senate bill has 22 cosponsors.

The $50 million would be given to the states over a seven-year period, with the understanding the states would put up matching funds, to plan statewide outdoor programs.

The states, according to the bills, have "primary responsibilities to provide outdoor recreation opportunities to the populations they serve and to encourage comprehensive planning . . . in cooperation with political subdivisions."

The Interior Department would be authorized to consult with other federal departments and agencies and prepare and maintain a continuing inventory and evaluation of the nation's outdoor recreation needs and resources.

The department also would provide technical assistance to the states, encourage interstate and regional cooperation in the development of recreational facilities and sponsor and engage in any desired research.

Recommending the proposed program, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall told the two Interior Committees:

"The report of the Outdoor Recreation Resources Review Commission emphasizes the fact that an adequate and diverse outdoor recreation opportunity for the American people requires carefully planned and effectively coordinated efforts by all levels of government and by private citizens and interests."

Udall pointed out that President Kennedy had urged recreation legislation in a message to Congress and had set up an Outdoor Recreation Advisory Council consisting of four Cabinet members.

Udall already is establishing in his department an Outdoor Recreation Bureau:

"Encourage the coordination of federal outdoor recreation programs; keep a recreation inventory; administer state aid; encourage interstate cooperation; conduct and sponsor research; prepare a national recreation plan, and set up education programs."

MY ANSWER

by Billy Graham

© 1962 by Chicago Tribune
N.Y. News Syndicate, Inc.

QUESTION: I believe that love for God must be something quite different from the meaning of ordinary human affection. Will you explain what to love God means? — T. R.

ANSWER: In one sense, of course, it is different; in another sense, it is not. There are at least three ingredients in our love for God which are found also in our human affections.

The first is knowledge. You cannot deeply love a person unless you really know that person; and the same is true of God. To love God you must "know" Him—not just know about Him. And there is only one way to know God in a deep, personal sense. It is through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. The Bible says that the light of the knowledge of God's glory shines in the face of Jesus Christ (2 Corinthians 4:6); and those who love God most are those who know Him best.

Then again, human love depends on reverence and respect. You cannot genuinely love a person for whom you have no deep regard.

And the same is true, in a far higher sense, of love for God. Our love for Him is kindled by the spirit of worship and adoration which compels us to bow in wonder before His majesty, holiness and grace.

The third ingredient is gratitude. Our love for our parents arises, in part at least, from a sense of gratitude for all that they have done for us. And we love God for the same reason.

"We love Him because He first loved us." (1 John 4:19) And I would add this: if you want to love God more, come to the Cross and learn afresh how great a debt you owe to Him.

Governor Not Familiar With College Issue

By PAUL HEALY

WASHINGTON — The hottest tourist attraction in town by far is the federal government's oldest building — the President's home.

A record-breaking total of 951,019 people have taken the White House tour this year. By 10 a.m. next Thursday, it is estimated, 1,000,000 sightseers will have passed portals during 1962. Last year the figure hit the million mark for the first time in history but it was the end of August before that happened.

Long, long ago Thomas Jefferson started the tradition of throwing open the public rooms of the Executive Mansion to the public during specified hours. This morning I decided to find out why citizens are flocking there as never before, and how they liked it. I was lucky enough to be able to make the trip first via the conducted — or VIP — tour, which is supposed to be reserved for the friends of members of Congress and Cabinet members.

MRS. HARRISON STARTED CHINA COLLECTION

In the China Room, we learned that the china collection, now embracing chinaware used by most of the Presidents, was begun by Mrs. Benjamin Harrison in 1883, and in one corner we admired a three-foot candle snuffer wielded by John Adams. In the reception room, Burke pointed out where Franklin Roosevelt sat for his fireside chats — to the right of the fireplace. (The White House now has a specially equipped room for TV and radio broadcasts.)

Here the tourists gasped at the beauty of the wallpaper, made in France, depicting Niagara Falls and other American scenes.

The guided tours must be finished by 10 a.m. because, for one thing, the Presidential family uses the lower quarters. The President passes through the Diplomatic Reception Room on his way out of the south entrance on his frequent trips to and from the helicopter on the South Lawn.

We next ascended the winding stairway to the East Room, or ballroom, and the Green Blue, and Red Rooms and the state dining rooms on the second floor. The ballroom, Burke said, has been the setting for the weddings of several daughters of presidents.

A stage is shoved into one end of it for the ballets, operas and Shakespearean productions that have marked the Kennedys' high-brow brand of entertainment.

EVEN SOME OF JACKIE'S THINGS

In the Red Room — done over in magenta as an Empire parlor by Mrs. Kennedy — our group admired the graceful sofas used by Dolley Madison and Nellie Custis, granddaughter of Martha Custis.

Burke pointed out that the mantel held the only two objects in the White House actually owned by Mrs. Kennedy — a pair of obelisks.

After the VIP trip, I took the public tour. I arrived at 11:03 a.m. and was pleasantly surprised to find the line was moving briskly into the mansion (some days 11,000 persons pass through the White House during the 10-12 o'clock tour hours and at times the line outside extends for four blocks).

This crowd was jauntier than the VIP group. As we swarmed through the east entrance, one girl asked me: "Wouldn't you like someone to go through your house like this? Wouldn't you enjoy it immensely?"

Rabies Discovered in State Bat Specimens

DENVER (UPI)—The Colorado Public Health Department said today almost all bat specimens it had examined in Colorado had rabies.

The department said a bat which bit a Denver woman early in July—as well as three bats turned in for examination in 1961, four in 1960 and five in 1958—were rabid.

Director R.L. Cleere said it was consequently important that all bat bites be reported and the victims undergo anti-rabies treatment.

Soldier Mutiny Over Food Noted In East Germany

BERLIN (UPI)—The West German newspaper Bild Zeitung today said East German soldiers have mutinied in protest against inadequate food.

Western intelligence organizations here could not confirm the report.

The newspaper, in a dispatch from the West German border city of Kassel headlined "Soldiers Mutiny in the Zone," said refugees reported growing discontent in the army.

They reported a platoon in the Thuringian town of Lauchroden refused to turn out for reveille, the newspaper said.

The platoon's soldiers nailed posters to their barracks door denouncing short rations, the newspaper said.

In the Thuringian town of Pierdsdorf border troops formed a robbers' band to steal food, Bild Zeitung said.

The newspaper reported one soldier was sentenced to two years imprisonment for not disclosing the flight plans of two other soldiers.

The East German Defense Ministry announced today men between 26 and 25 would be called up for military service from Sept. 3 to Sept. 26. The Communists introduced conscription after they built their anti-refugee wall last with red satin.

Control of Drugs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic congressional leaders were indicted after a meeting with President Kennedy today to give high priority to his legislation to re-enter systems, satellite and booster control systems and communications.

Whiting declared the basic course which attorneys give their drug distribution.

Senate Leader Mike Mansfield told newsmen the Senate "will endeavor to take up the drug bill as soon as possible because of the vital importance it has."

Speaker John W. McCormack termed the legislation "one of the most important matters" to be considered by the House before adjournment.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen predicted that Kennedy would get some but not all of the stuff new controls he has requested. He said cautious approach to the legislation was needed to prevent bureaucratic abuse of the proposed new powers.

Dirksen made his statement prior to a closed meeting of the Senate Judiciary Committee plan to consider a seven-point plan proposed by the White House.

"All of it will be given good consideration and some of it no doubt will be adopted," Dirksen told a reporter.

New Miniature
Atomic Power
Plant Proposed

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Maryland's Baltimore plant has obtained a contract from the Atomic Energy Commission to study the feasibility of a radionuclide-fueled power plant of 500 watts.

That's almost 200 times as powerful as the two tiny nuclear generators put in orbit in 1961 aboard prototypes of the Navy's transnational satellites.

The contract calls for conceptual design of system to use decay heat from radioactive material and a thermionic converter.

Such a device would be useful in several military applications and in commercial television satellites.

Sales Manager Is Speaker For SWAP Club

Bill Shiffle, general sales manager of Doepkes Long Motor Co., spoke on "The Handshake That Makes Sales" to members of the SWAP Salesmen With A Purpose Club at their regular Monday morning breakfast at Ruth's Inn.

He listed the handshake as the "key to our personality" and said that it often determines the outcome of a prospective sale.

"If we hold back that lack of experience knowledge of product or fear of what might happen," Shiffle said. "The chances of making a sale are reduced to a minimum."

A positive outgoing personality invites confidence, the speaker continued, saying "we need only to listen to the prospect and find out what he wants. Then if we are furnished with a thorough knowledge of the product, we are in an excellent position to deliver the goods, and on the basis the prospects wants to buy."

Shiffle emphasized the importance of service after the sale is made, asserting that service after the sale was the determining factor of whether you made a permanent customer. Most successful businesses are proof of this fact."

More Jail Terms Predicted in Anti-Trust Cases

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The federal government clearly is demonstrating determination to prosecute antitrust suits by criminal indictments against corporate executives. Richard A. Whiting, an antitrust defender, said to-day.

"No longer can the corporation officer count on paying his way out of antitrust liability," Whiting declared in an address prepared for the American Bar Association's section on antitrust law.

Jail sentences have become more common for the punishment of individuals involved in flagrant corporate violations. Increasing use of this sanction seems probable," said Whiting, a Washington, D.C., attorney.

In the first six months of 1962, he said, more corporation executives were indicted for alleged antitrust violations than in any full year since 1958.

Whiting declared the basic course which attorneys give their drug distribution.

Texas District Said Most Populous

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 5th Congressional District of Texas is now the most populous in the country, replacing the 28th District of California.

The Census Bureau reported today, that as a result of redistricting thus far completed, the 5th Texas District (Dallas County) is the largest with a population of 951,327. Redistricting in California to give the state eight additional seats in the House of Representatives has cut that state's 28th District from a population of 1,014,460 to 586,903.

Michigan's 12th District, the western part of the upper Michigan Peninsula, remains the least populous with 177,431.

The only other districts under 200,000 population are South Dakota's 2nd with 182,845, and Colorado's 4th with 195,551 and Arizona's 3rd with 196,236.

The ambassador said the number of American tourists in the Soviet Union is increasing and now runs about 10,000 to 12,000 yearly.

Concerning conditions in the U.S.S.R., he said there is more freedom since Premier Stalin's death, more relaxation in the controls exercised over the people.

Employment in Mountain Areas Below Forecast

DENVER (UPI)—The seasonal upswing in farm and non-farm employment in the Mountain states was below expectations in mid-June, the U.S. Department of Labor said today.

Farm employment in Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming nudged the 2 million mark in mid-June. However, the department said, the over-the-month increase amounted to only 25,800—about 17,000 short of the expected seasonal upswing.

The department said non-farm employment increases were below seasonal normals because of labor-management disputes, completion of construction contracts, and contract negotiations.

Compared to a year ago, however, nonfarm employment was well ahead in all states except Wyoming. The department said many of the state's increases were due to Atomic Energy Commission activities.

In wholesale and retail trade, the department said employment increases were normal. Government employment remained unchanged as federal summer job hiring balanced losses in state and local government school employment.

Railroads Announce Start of New Rules

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's railroads gave notice to five operating unions today that new rules will go into effect Aug. 16 for 200,000 on-train employees.

The step, taken while a union petition to bar imposition of less stringent work rules changes was pending in U.S. District Court, would put into force proposals made by the railroads Nov. 2, 1958.

The more comprehensive revision of working conditions is expected to cost the jobs of many train crewmen and extend the length of operating runs for those remaining.

Tax Reductions To Aid Minerals, Official Claims

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP)—Tax reductions instituted by the Kennedy administration will be of substantial benefit to mineral industries, Charles H. Stoddard, director of the resources program staff in the Department of Interior, said here today.

Addressing the Fourth Annual Western Resources Conference, Stoddard said the stimulus to new investment, through the reduction in tax liabilities for new investment, should put the mineral industries in better shape to meet intensified competition. Stoddard noted that this competition would come both on a national and a worldwide basis.

"Major sectors of the minerals economy," Stoddard said, "will gain almost $300 million per year as a consequence of the administration's two-pronged program of depreciation reform."

On the gold situation Stoddard said:

"The administration believes it is not possible in any way, to subsidize domestic gold mining without introducing this subsidy into the monetary system. Thus, the administration will not consider any act that might be interpreted in international monetary markets as a de facto devaluation of the dollar."

Stoddard said that a sound approach to the mineral resource problem of the United States calls for intensified research and development in five broad categories:

1. Research in techniques and equipment that will permit us to locate and appraise mineral deposits that are hidden by cover rock or overburden.

2. Mining research to enable more efficient recovery and safer mining operations.

3. Extractive research to permit and minimum of economic waste with ores of progressively lower grade.

4. Research to enable use of abundant materials currently of little use.

5. Research that will enable us to synthesize certain materials which are relatively scarce.

Jerry A. O'Callaghan, assistant director of the Bureau of Land Management, commenting on the misuse of mining claims, said the Interior Department has a responsibility to insure that a discovery has been made.

He said it is up to the department to determine that a claim of mineral discovery "is not based upon a false notion of the concept of valuable minerals or is not a subterfuge of gaining title to non-mineral resources."

He said there are hundreds, if not thousands, of people occupying and using mining claims for purposes not contemplated by the law.

Compared to a year ago, however, nonfarm employment was well ahead in all states except Wyoming. The department said many of the state's increases were due to Atomic Energy Commission activities.

In wholesale and retail trade, the department said employment increases were normal. Government employment remained unchanged as federal summer job hiring balanced losses in state and local government school employment.

It's a question we answer all the time. Sometimes it's someone new in the neighborhood. Sometimes it's an old friend who just doesn't happen to have a family physician. The boy sprains an ankle . . . the baby runs a temperature . . . Grandma has a bad cough. Troubled people often turn to us for help, and rightly so. We work closely with physicians, providing the medicines they prescribe and use in their offices. We know who they are; their specialties, their office hours. In an emergency we're good people to ask. And we're always happy to be of service to our friends and patrons.

Marilyn Was Witty, Despite Scant Education

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—For a girl world around me because it was kind of grim—but I loved to play house and it was like you could make your own boundaries."

She left Van Nuys, Calif., High School in her second year, but her education didn't end there. During one of our first interviews in her starlet days, she proudly reported that she had only one charge account, at a Beverly Hills store.

She liked to hobnob with literary giants like Dame Edith Sitwell and Carl Sandburg. Once she happily told me that Sandburg pointed a finger at her during a Hollywood party and proclaimed: "You are not what is wrong with America."

She wrote her own poetry, though she showed it to few. When she entered the New York phase of her life, she was fascinated with the literary crowd. Significantly, her last husband was one of America's leading men of letters, Arthur Miller.

Whether she could articulate her own personal stresses through psychiatry is not known. But she did speakably for print concerning her life and views.

Among her reflections:

Her foster parents—"I had 11 or 12 sets of them. I don't want to count them again—it depresses me. Some families kept me longer; others got tired of me in a short time. I must have made them nervous or something."

Her acting beginnings—"When I the few people I can really count. So at least it's something I've started wanting to be an actress I've had you, fame. If it goes by, live."

Signal Battalion Motto Lives Up To Its Word

"We Move Fast" is the motto of Ft. Carson's 5th Signal Battalion, and recent events have made the slogan ring true.

The signalmen have been breaking scholastic records at various Army schools, and Company B of the battalion was the first unit to achieve 100 per cent participation in the post's United Fund Drive.

At Fort Gordon, Ga., Pfc. John A. Spooner was graduated from the radio relay and carrier operator course with a 99.4 per cent average, highest in the history of the course. At Camp McCoy, Wis., 83 per cent of the Colorado signalmen averaged far above any other group of students to attend courses in various communication specialties.

"I'm sure that future students will have a hard time breaking school records set by Red Diamond men," said Lt. Col. Charles L. Bachtel, signal officer of the 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized).

Carrying on the fast-moving tradition at Carson are the battalion's two human telephone wires, Spec. 4 Ronald LaClair and Pvt. Billie J. Hackler, who tour the post four times a day making distribution runs.

They drive about 60 miles and get in and out of their jeep with 152 times in an average day.

Fame—"I like a manly man, one with lots of character and strength of purpose. Perhaps he will be headstrong and impulsive. But surely he will be filled with virtue and a passion for living. And he will know just how to go about getting it."

Sex—"Sex is a part of nature. I'd rather go along with nature."

Her lateness—"It's not really who's late. It's the others who are in such a hurry."

Dress—"I'll confess that a very small percentage of my apparel is selected solely as a protection against the elements. When I buy a dress, I want it to do something for me. I want it to make me more attractive and that means more attractive to men."

Wealth—"I don't care about money. I just want to be wonderful."

Fame—"I now live in my work and in a few relationships with women. I've always known it was fickle. I've always known it was fickle."

Her acting beginnings—"When I the few people I can really count. So at least it's something I've started wanting to be an actress I've had you, fame. If it goes by, live."

French Television Gets Telstar Picture

PARIS (AP)—French television viewers saw some scenes and news shots direct from America Monday night via a Telstar hook-up with New York.

The 20-minute program was produced by the Radiodiffusion Television Francaise in cooperation with an American network. Both images and sound came through clearly as relayed by the orbiting satellite.

French viewers saw shots of Central Park, Washington Square and the Museum of Modern Art in Manhattan, scenes in Los Angeles connected with the death of film star Marilyn Monroe, and then scenes of a women's pacifist stock and are closely linked by demonstration outside the Soviet historical and cultural ties, he said.

Pakistan Proposes Asian Defense Bloc

QUETTA, Pakistan (AP)—President Ayub Khan of Pakistan suggested Monday the fusion of three neighboring countries—Pakistan, Afghanistan and Iran—into a greater political entity to defend against aggression.

Ayub Khan told a public rally that, sandwiched as they are between India and the Soviet Union, these three countries need such unity.

The Price of Liberty

With the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the greatest revolutionary document the world has ever seen sprang into life.

Thomas Lynch Jr., owner of a large plantation, felt that the colonies had become too unfriendly for him to remain this side of the Atlantic. He sailed for France but his ship was lost.

General Washington a few days later received a copy of the Declaration and read it to his troops assembled in New York, where, within gunshot distance, the sails of the British fleet floated on the tide.

The Declaration of Independence is simple and divides readily into four sections.

The first paragraph is the first section already commented upon yesterday. It was a kind of explanation, almost an apology, for what was already happening.

The last paragraph is a summing up, a confirmation of the points made.

The largest section, which begins with the third paragraph, is a bill of particulars, an indictment in plain language of the abuses leveled against the colonists by the king of England, George III.

But the truly revolutionary character of the document is found in its second paragraph.

Here, an entirely new concept is first put into writing by the colonists. It was the content of this paragraph which caused many of the signers to conclude that they could expect to be hanged for affixing their signatures to so smoldering a piece of literature.

And they were right.

What happened to many of the signers confirmed their fears.

Nor were the enemies to be faced by these rugged individualists all in the pay of the British government.

Vandals, some of them Tories, weeks later of exhaustion and a looted and in some cases burned broken heart.

Philip Livingston took an active part in the war but died in a few months as a result of hardship. His family scattered, Rutledge and Middleton.

Carter Braxton of Virginia, a prosperous merchant and tradesman, had his ships driven from the sea. To pay his debts, he (Continued below)

The American Way That Medicare Lobby

By RAYMOND C. BAKER

Medicare, a coined word meaning care for the aged thru social security, is supported by one of the most active and articulate lobbies known to Washington lawmakers.

And despite their recent defeat in the Senate, the "planners" behind Medicare will be back again next year... and every year, until it passes.

Moreover, this gigantic pressure group is supported by the administration! It is called the National Committee of Senior Citizens for Health Care Thru Social Security.

Dr. Blue Cartenon resigned as a member of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to run the Senior Citizens' staff. His principal job is to see that every pressure possible is brought to bear on senators and representatives to vote to have government invade the medical profession.

The plan would cost just double what its sponsors claim for the first year — $1.2 billion, not $1 billion. Eventually, the cost will be $4 billion a year, not $2.5 billion, as HEW estimates.

Those who have made careful studies of various medical care programs know what this measure actually will do for the aged: it is not good for the nation's social security program. Perhaps a less positive position of organized constructive support will turn in a much better direction than he would be tagged by our State Department. How many times did Thomas Edison try before he perfected the first electric light bulb?

The measure does not cover all.

Seized by Hessians pressed into the service of the British king by Railroad Retirement Act, as being in American life, and if many have been led to believe, it can be successfully practiced.

It does not cover the bills of physical and surgeon. The patient's salutary effect of the existence must pay for the first nine days of hospitalization at $10 per day.

Now, for a look at the other side of the coin. At present, employees earning $4,800 are taxed at the rate of $150 per year; these taxes will rise to $174 next year.

Actually, only about 25 percent of total medical expenses would be paid for those patients $5 or over.

Make a Little Jacket

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Fashion likes the little jacket or bolero. I feel rightly that the bolero is a little shorter than are most short jackets.

Jackets may come just together in the front, may overlap or have button and buttonholes; lower edges may be straight, or may have a scalloped lower edge, just as you prefer.

Hand work is beginning to show in many dresses and suits, so here are three of the very simplest decorative stitches, any one of which could be used on the jacket shown.

Decide the decorative stitch you will use. Choose an embroidery thread heavy enough to be effective, or use several strands of floss. Practice on a scrap of the fabric until you have perfected the stitch and have it just the length desired for effectiveness.

Chain Stitch

Like single crochet, the chain stitch is one of the easier stitches to make. Stitch and press the garment before beginning the chain stitch. Bring needle thru to right side. Then take stitch, as shown, holding thread in place with the thumb, and bring needle out over thread to form a loop, the same as for a buttonhole. Continue in this way until chain is complete. Use a thread firm enough to form an attractive loop. Do not make too large. Pivot squarely at corners so that loops will all be even.

Lazy Daisy

Lazy daisy stitches are elongated chain stitches grouped to form a flower. They may be worked with or without a stamped design. Use fine thread for dainty work, such as on infants' clothes, and coarse thread for large designs.

Begin with a knot, and pull thread thru from the wrong side. With thumb, hold thread in position to form loop of size desired for petal.

Put needle in just beside where it came out to begin the stitch, and bring it out over the tip of the petal, as shown. Then put the needle in again outside the petal loop, so as to hold the loop in place.

Bring the needle out at the center of the flower, toward you, ready for next petal; and repeat.

Leaves may be made the same as the petals; simply use a different color of thread.

Fine running stitches make good stems for lazy daisies.

Feather Stitch

Made same as blanket stitch, except that you work left to right and right to left — on the fabric itself, not on the edge.

Mark a line by basting, creasing, or using transfer pattern. Work directly over this to keep the work straight.

Make double or triple feather stitching by making 2 or 3 stiches.

in downward line to right and then to left, as shown. Size and kind of thread, length and evenness of stitches make possible many interesting effects.

Bias Binding

Another favorite decoration for a short jacket is bias binding, looped as shown and whipped to place where the bias folds come together. White bias on a dark color, or black, navy, or dark brown bias on a light color makes an effective trimming.

Buttons can also give you the decorative touch you're looking for. There are so many beautiful buttons to choose from, or, if you prefer, buy button molds at your notion counter and cover your own. Bound buttonholes are best where very large buttons are used.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

In a one or two - person family where there are very few dishes, it is a nuisance and a waste to use the dishpan and soap powder for every cup or luncheon dish.

We made "soap - bags". We crocheted them of "store - string" or cut up old dishcloths and sew them so they are about four and one - half by two and one - half inches. Leave a hole in one end. Cut off a piece of soap and slide in this opening.

This soap bag is always soapy, always handy and it is not, as might be supposed, wasteful of the soap. We couldn't live without it. It does not get sour or need washing out as a dishcloth usually does.

We use dishcloths only for dabbing up spilled water, etc.

Mrs. B. A. J.

Dear Heloise:

When taking a trip in a car with youngsters — and they play in the back of the car and sleep — always take along a few pillows.

These are wonderful when father is driving, and mother (or the kiddies) want to nap. Saves lots of back aches too. One can pile up a few bed pillows and the youngsters sleep peacefully on them.

I have found it best to take your favorite bed pillow and put three pillow slips on it — one over the other. When the top slip gets soiled, slip it off and fold it in your suitcase. Use the second slip until it is soiled and then remove it, etc.

Now, here is the trick to having clean slips later. When staying in town overnight, (or this can be done while the family is eating) go to one of the laundry mats and leave your soiled clothes and pillow slips.

There is nothing worse than returning home with a suitcase of soiled clothing, but most important one doesn't have to take so many pieces of underwear and nighties on long trips — which saves suit case space.

Mrs. Albert Wolfe

DEAR HELOISE:

I use my hot and steam iron for all of my ironing. The ironing surface has always been bad, sticking to the clothing and collecting starch. I have used scouring pads, cleanser, sandpaper, salt and wax paper and nothing would remove it completely.

I took a damp rag with baking soda and rubbed on the cold iron and it cleaned it completely.

I never iron flat pieces anymore. I take all of my towels, pillowcases, sheets, handkerchiefs and dish towels out of the dryer slightly damp and fold them. Then — I leave them on top of the machine until completely dry and they look ironed!

I have several nylon sheets with elastic all around them. When the elastic began to weaken on either side of the mattress, I just couldn't throw them out, so I tied using a couple of safety pins on each side. I pinned the sheet through to the mattress. The sheet stays on perfectly!

I take slippers out of the dryer slightly damp, put them on the furniture, and smooth them with my hands. They look as if they have been pressed.

Ola Christy

DEAR HELOISE:

My husband is a house painter. Once in a while he will get paint on the cotton jacket he wears to work.

I have found that we do not usually see these paint marks until they are dry and hard. I apply turpentine to the paint stain and let it stand for about an hour. Then with a teaspoon, I rub the cloth to break up the stain and flush it out with some more turpentine. The dry cleaner takes care of the rest.

DEAR ABBY: On Mother's Day a jungle of trouble. Many mothers got a potted plant from one of their children. I think!

Anyway, it came from a local florist with a card which read,

"From the [family]. I am sorry it came from one of my sons, who lives about 300 miles away. I am real angry about it. I think they should have at least signed their given names. My daughter here in town says I am being silly. Of course, I could have called the florist and found out where it came from, but I was too hurt. What do you think about it?" —MRS. STILL ANGRY

DEAR MRS. STILL: You are turning a simple potted plant into

DEAR ABBY: I read somewhere that a hostess should be complimented if a guest picks up her china or silverware to admire it and see what company made it. We were at a dinner party last night and I picked up a plate and turned it over to examine it more closely and everyone looked shocked. I don't want to embarrass myself again. Did I do something wrong or not? —LOVES NICE THINGS

DEAR LOVES: If a guest admires china or silver and wants to know the pattern and manufacturer, she should ask her hostess. It is improper to examine it for trademarks.

DEAR ABBY: I am an ex-sailor, married a year. We are both 31 and Abby, can you believe it? I am trying to teach my wife how to wash dishes. She never rinses the soap off dishes or glasses. She says you don't have to go to all that trouble because the dish towel does that. I never eat at her mother's because I don't like soapy tea. Can a dish towel remove soap? Please put your answer in the paper. She won't believe me. —EX-SAILOR

DEAR EX-SAILOR: You don't have to join the Navy to know how important water is! A dish towel will "not" remove soap residue. Rinsing is necessary. People have become violently ill from unrinse dishes and glassware.

Bears Streak Snapped As Indians Boost Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Indianapolis smothered Oklahoma City 11-4 Monday night behind a barrage of 13 hits and boosted its American Association lead to eight and a half games.

Dallas-Fort Worth snapped Denver's five-game winning streak and edged the Bears 9-8 in a see-saw loosely played game. Louis-vile turned back Omaha 4-0 behind the eight-hit pitching of Chi Chi Olivo.

The Indians shut out Oklahoma City for the second straight night behind the five-hit performance of Al Worthington. The Indians built a 4-0 margin in the first three innings before knocking out the Oklahoma City Starter with a five-run blast in the fourth.

Indianapolis faced four 88-pitchers.

Fred Newman went the route for Dallas-Fort Worth, despite the fact he was rapped for 12 hits.

Newman finished the game strong, however, blanking the Bears in the last three innings.

Catchers Pete Gonzalez and Bill Freehan each had two passed balls and the game also included a total of six errors.

Starter Jerry Casals pitched the first five innings for the Bears, giving up nine hits and five runs — two of them unearned. Casals arrived from the parent Detroit Tigers only hours before the game started.

Wynn Carey, who took over in the sixth, pitched one and two-thirds innings before Fred Glad-ding came in and finished the game-taking his 10th loss of the season.

At Omaha the Dodgers had 10 men on base in the first five innings but Olivo escaped unscathed, thanks to double plays in the second and third innings.

In the fourth a good throw by centerfielder Ellis Burton nipped a runner at the plate.

Fritz Brickell and Phil Roof

blasted second inning homers. It was Brickell's first of the season and Roof's fourth.

Five Hits Has Willie All Smiles

By JACK STEVENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays flashed his big grin and laughed. "Every time I get a hit I'm smiling ... I don't have to get five."

San Francisco's all-star center-fielder had just concluded a winning day against the Philadelphia Phillies Monday afternoon in which he hit safely five times in five times at bat including two home runs.

The Giants won 9-2.

Mays knocked in five runs to boost his RBI total to 100 for 1962.

His major league leading homer production now totals 34.

Somebody asked him what pitch he had hit out of the park in the first inning for No. 33 off starter and loser Dallas Green.

"I don't know. Honest. I don't" Willie admitted as he usually does after a homer. "It might have been a fast ball, or maybe it was a slider. Honest. I don't know. I just try to hit 'em."

Somebody else asked him when he had last hit five for five in a game and Willie shook his head again.

"I did it in Seals Stadium, I think, but I just can't say who it was against."

Record books helped with the information that in the first game of a doubleheader against the Los Angeles Dodgers on Sept. 1, 1958, the first year the Giants were in San Francisco, Mays hit a homer, two doubles and two singles. He knocked in two runs.

The Giants played at Seals Stadium in 1958 and 1959 before moving to new Candlestick Park in 1960.

On July 13, 1958, in the Coliseum at Los Angeles, Willie had hit two homers, two triples and a single in his five trips, knocking in four tallies.

Mays went into the game with a .303 average and came out at .311.

Manager Alvin Dark summed it up: "He's great ... the greatest player I've ever seen."

National League coaches Jim Turner (Cincinnati), Bobby Bragan (Houston), Bill Adair (Milwaukee), Peanuts Lowry (Philadelphia), Harry Walker (St. Louis) and Whitey Lockman (San Francisco) all wear uniform No.

Bombers Keep Rolling In Heavyweight League

Clay Chambers pitched two ball as the Clifton Bombers continued on their merry way with a 4-0 shut out to defeat the Tile Falcons. The high-flying Bombers got all their runs in the bottom of the second on walks, errors, a double by Chambers and singles by Tom Thompson and Stan Predmore.

In other Young America League Heavyweight action, the Elks Club Lancers used two five-innings to get past the Broadmoor Rotary Saints, 10-7. A clutch of walks and a single by winning pitcher Herb Birns highlighted the five-run fourth and four ninth errors and a double by Billie Fish paved the way for a five-run sixth inning.

The Tigers squeaked by the Senators, 8-7, somehow scoring their eight runs with only one hit—a double by Ron Smith. Don Rossette and Rod Wells both hit homers for the losers.

Among the Middleweights, ready Stan Paris fired a one-hitter to pace the Lansing Aluminum Bruins to a 7-2 win over the Elks Club Twins. Clay Williams hit a three-run double in the first inning to set it up for the victory and Doug DeWitt added a triple.

The Pirates tallied eight runs in the first inning to coast past

CHICAGO (UPI) — Challenger Sonny Liston scored a pre-fight victory today over heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson by obtaining the Aurora Downs race track as a training site.

Patterson's representatives had inspected the track, about 45 miles west of Chicago, and had been negotiating for its use. But Jack Nilon of Chester, Pa., Liston's advisor, apparently made a better offer to attorneys for the bankrupt track.

East - West vulnerable. North made a score their way. West showed admirable restraint in passing. Had he bid five clubs, his losses would have been recorded in four figures.

West opened the king of clubs against four spades, and observing the fall of his partner's eight he continued with the ace. East in the meantime had been doing some thinking. If he took a routine discard on West's high club, the latter would undoubtedly continue the suit in the hope that East could overruff the dummy. However, either the dummy's seven or nine of spades could top East's best trump and, after drawing the adverse spades, South would be able to discard whatever losers he had on North's diamonds.

East saw that the only chance to defeat the contract was to find his partner with the ace of hearts in which case a lead through declarer's king might net two more tricks. However, if East were ever going to gain the lead, it was now or never, so he detached the deuce of trumps from his hand and placed it squarely on his partner's ace of clubs. His astuteness was duly rewarded when the queen of hearts returned in fact produce the tricks required to set the bid.

Deformed Baby's Mother Says She Is Happy

GARDENA, Calif. (AP)—Many people would be glad to see a child like ours," says a mother whose son was born deformed because, she believes, she took the drug thalidomide during pregnancy. Hamelore Webb, 23, said Sunday in a copyright story in the Los Angeles Times—that she and her husband William J. Webb, 23, agreed that "abortion could be entirely wrong." Their infant, William J. Webb, was born June 15 with no forearm, a partial left forearm and thumbs. His hands extend from ends of his stubby arms. Thalidomide has been given as cause of deformities in babies in Europe, Canada and Australia. These mothers took the drug during pregnancy.

The initial shock of learning her son was deformed "wore off gradually," Mrs. Webb said. "But I got out of the hospital and the baby in my arms. I knew everything was okay."

Mrs. Webb said she wished she could talk to Sherri Finkbine, the Phoenix, Ariz., mother of four who is seeking an abortion in Stockholm, Sweden, because she took thalidomide during her pregnancy.

The Webbs are Baptists. Mrs. Webb, a native of Germany, married her husband 15 months ago when he was stationed with the Army in Bad Godesberg, Germany. She said she took thalidomide, the form of a drug called Contergan which was available in German drugstores. She stopped taking it when she heard a warning over the radio.

The Webbs said that surgeons hope to correct their son's deformities at least partly with series of operations.

De Gaulle's Treasurer Seeks to Boost Economy

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

PARIS (NEA) — The United States Treasury was fattened recently when France repaid a borrowed $20 million—most of it on a Marshall Plan loan.

The permanent responsible for this cheerful event is the man who is placing France on solid fiscal ground: Valery Giscard d'Estaing.

D'Estaing followed up the dollars with a personal visit to Washington where he conferred with President Kennedy and Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon on trade and currency problems.

Even in the "young" Washington of the Kennedy Administration, D'Estaing stood out because of his tender years. At 36, he holds one of the four key posts in the French government, minister of finance.

When France was liberated in 1945, D'Estaing was attending the Ecole Polytechnique. From there he went to the National School of Administration and finally to the highly privileged corps known as aimed at the rest of the world, the Inspection des Finances. He was earmarked in all three places by his brilliance.

He moved into politics 10 years ago when he was attached as adviser to the minister of finance, Antoine Pinay. From there he graduated to an assistant's post for Prime Minister Edgar Faure. Then he was elected to the National Assembly.

Three years ago, D'Estaing was appointed secretary of state for the Finance Department. As such he was responsible for France's budget. He balanced it for three consecutive years.

D'Estaing has always been a staunch defender of economic expansion and of the franc. He once declared: "My aim is to be the conscientious manager of the national money box."

A statistician for the Federal Reserve District figures there was a loss of $10 million in local retail and department store sales.

The papers announced a price increase from 7 to 10 cents for single daily copies and from 35 to 40 cents a week for home delivery in the city.

Or the 1,600 part-time employees, an estimated 500 kept working at least four days. Most of those on strike or idled by it found full or part-time work elsewhere and unionized workers drew strike benefits.

Or 175 news and editorial department employees, 19 left for other positions and won't be back, said L. L. Cavanaugh, the firm's public service director.

Benefits to American Newspaper Guild members, who were not on strike, ranged from $30 to $75 a week. The ANG represents news and editorial employees, photographers and some office workers.

Teamsters Local 638, which triggered the strike, found jobs for its 93 full-time and 85 part-time drivers with the Daily Herald or in other trucking operations. The Herald was launched May 1 by a local advertising executive, Maurice McCaffrey.

McCaffrey said he was glad to see an end to the walkout because any kind of strike like this is bad for the community." He said he will continue publishing the Herald.

"I don't think there's any question but that the lack of regular newspaper advertising media adversely affected the whole area," said O. D. Gay, executive vice president of the Minneapolis Downtown Council.

A government statistician said for the week ending July 28, department store sales were up 8 per cent from the same week one year ago in St. Paul but down 4 per cent in Minneapolis.

Local 638 initiated the walkout in dispute over a new contract and were joined by four other unions. Several other unions honored the picket lines.

Agreements reached during the past several days provided in general for $5 weekly wage increases this year and $3.50 more next year, along with improved pension, holiday and other fringe benefits.

Newspapers in Minneapolis Publish Again

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Presses of the Minneapolis Star and Morning Tribune hummed again today after a strike had idled the plant 116 days.

The Tribune, with a weekday circulation of 229,481 and 672,162 Sunday, and the Star, circulating 301,333 evening newspapers, were shut down April 12 for the first time in history. It was the nation's longest major newspaper strike.

In a front-page statement to Tribune readers, president John Cowles and publisher Joyce A. Swan said "it is certainly good to be back."

They declared the cost of the strike had been considerable—to employees, business generally for lack of advertising, and to the reading public.

"Our employees who did not report for work lost more than $3 million," the statement said. "Our 13,000 carrier salesmen and other distributors lost more than $1.4 million...."

The Star and Tribune Co. did not estimate its own revenue loss. It carried an undisclosed amount of strike insurance.

Colombia Takes Another Step To Democracy

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Colombia completes the first lap on its road to democracy and economic stability with the inauguration of Dr. Guillermo Leon Valencia as president today.

Valencia, 54, a Conservative, takes over as chief executive from Liberal Alberto Lleras Camargo after four years of a unique political system alternating the presidency between the once warring Liberal and Conservative parties.

The system was evolved in 1958 as a solution to political fighting which killed about 200,000 Colombians in the preceding decade and led to the dictatorship of Gustavo Rojas Pinilla.

Conservatives and Liberals buried the hatchet to oust Rojas Pinilla in 1957, then kept it buried to lead the country away from dictatorship and financial chaos.

Despite challenges from dissidents of both parties, Valencia won 1,746,000 of the total 2,644,384 votes cast in the presidential balloting last May.

The parties divide seats in Congress and on district and local councils evenly, and the national government is coalition.

On inauguration eve, an outlaw band led by one-time Liberal guerrilla leader Sangre Negra (Black Blood) killed 13 persons—10 of them under 21—in an attack near Libano, about 150 miles southwest of Bogota. Authorities called the attack an attempt to stir up old political antagonisms during inauguration festivities.

Valencia has been in politics since 1939, but never has been closely identified with any political faction. Like Lleras, Valencia is strongly anti-Communist and anti-Castro and is a good friend of the United States.

European Political Unity Is Given New Impetus

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

"TOBACCO" WIVES
In the early 1600s, a good wife was worth her weight in tobacco. Lucky wokers happily paid the 120 pounds of leaf (worth about a cal unity negotiations appears to $440) it cost for the passage of have been cracked. A would-be wife from England to Prospects look good now for a Western European "little summit" meeting in Rome in September at which plans for a politically united Europe will be launched again — this time with real chances of success.

The six European Common Market countries — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg — have been trying since last summer to agree on a blueprint for a politically united Western Europe.

They have achieved an amazing degree of success in the field of economic unity. Their aim is to try to match this with a political union which ultimately would point the way to a United States of Europe sometime in the future.

But they have run into some major snags along the way.

Chief of these is that some of the Common Market countries are shooting for a genuine political union, including a European government and elected parliament. Gaulle agreed that political unity and other "supranational" features should be lifted off the dead-center as soon as possible.

The next stage now is expected to be the meeting in Rome at which De Gaulle, Adenauer and other government heads of "the six" will try to get the whole political unity idea off to a new, more auspicious start.

USEFUL FORMALDEHYDE

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Formaldehyde, that chemical so much in evidence around biology laboratories, is bringing improved wash-and-wear qualities to cotton fabrics, the Texas A & M College extension service says.

A new process being studied by the textile finishing industry uses formaldehyde to bind together cotton's cellulose molecules to give a more durable finish to cotton used in wash-and-wear clothing. The formaldehyde-treated fabrics showed no tendency to yellow in tests, the extension service said, and did not discolor when subjected to incide bleach.

Disc Jockey Forces Station To Give Pay Raise

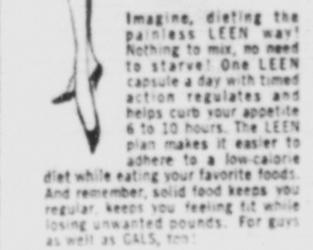

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Disc jockey Larry Justice was given a raise by radio station WPGC Monday after he refused to get off the air until he received a salary increase.

Justice locked himself in the station's broadcasting control room, and began urging the public to back his demand for more money. Between pleas, Justice played the same record over and over again — novelty disc called "The Presidential News Conference."

News director David B. Simons said Justice took over the station, located just across the District of Columbia line in suburban Maryland, this morning, locking the rest of the employees out of the control booth. Justice claims he was promised a pay raise at the end of his first four months with the station. He has been employed there six months.

Simmons said Justice made only one concession to management's plea that he get off the air—he allowed the station to broadcast its regular news shows.

Judge Orders Driver to Be Re-Examined

An 82-year-old man was found guilty of taking the right-of-way, was fined $15 and ordered to be re-examined by the State Motor Vehicle Department as to his driving ability, by Municipal Judge Allan Asher in police court Monday.

The defendant, Robert Calwell, 640 E. Maple St., was involved in an accident with another car at the intersection of Royer Street and Willamette Avenue the afternoon of July 31.

The Caldwell car jumped the curbing at the southeast corner of the intersection after the collision crashed thru a fence and sideswiped two houses before coming to rest.

Police Officer James Coster in a written statement to the court, said that leafy shrubbery in the center parking near the intersection limited vision of approaching traffic.

Other traffic cases heard in court Monday were: Raymond Miles, 23, of 838 E. Vermijo Ave., two charges of careless driving, $40; Charles Zimmerman, 19, Ft. MOO TO YOU, TOO — Two-year-old Bambi French and six-year-old Gary Bales survey the Pikes Peak or Bust Rodeo stock in last-minute check of the animal situation out at Spencer Penrose Stadium where the big rodeo begins Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. Bambi decided the doggin' steers might be a bit too much for her to handle, told Gary he could 'dog' if he wanted to try. Gary, in turn, decided he'd let the professional cowboys handle the steers, bulls and broncs for a few more years. Bambi and Gary, children of Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. French, 3018 North Prospect St., are going to be front-rowers at the rodeo which begins Wednesday night, runs through Saturday, plus a matinee at 2 P.M. on Thursday, and a downtown rodeo parade at 10 A.M., also on Thursday. Group Proposed to Combat Construction Vandalism

Directors of the Construction Industry Council will form a committee in the near future to work with city and county law enforcement officials to cut down vandalism at construction sites.

It was agreed by the directors at a Monday luncheon at the Embers that an educational program should be started soon for both parents and children. One phase of such a program would be to make both aware of the dangers which exist at construction areas.

In addition to the construction officials, the meeting was attended by Police Chief Cecil J. McKissick, Undersheriff H. Don Smith, County Judge Charles Simon and Ed R. Nelson, business representative of the Building Construction Trades Council.

L. V. Mayfield, president of the Construction Industry Council, said contractors had a responsibility as citizens to do everything possible to help cut down on vandalism and tragic accidents among inquisitive youngsters at building projects.

Law enforcement officials said they would be glad to work with such a proposed committee.

At the outset of the meeting, Douglas Jardine said vandalism in construction areas was getting to be a "serious problem." He said contractors have lost hundreds of dollars because of vandalism and thefts in recent months.

Rouse has been an engineer with both Agricultural Research Service and Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture for nearly 30 years. His principal interests have been in soil conservation research activities associated with the control and distribution of water.

Jardine said these acts are costing the contractors lots of money. He indicated that if the problem could not be solved under the present laws, "perhaps we had better talk with our legislators."

Several persons attending the meeting said that if the city had more recreational facilities, it would tend to reduce vandalism. Jardine strongly endorsed the proposed development of Memorial Park as one of the means of increasing recreational opportunities.

A preliminary plat will be presented by A. J. Lanza for the Sleepy Subdivision located north of Woodman Road and south of the south boundary of the Air Force Academy in an F-1 forest and recreation district.

Almost as soon as Mrs. Walton cradled the phone in ambedly Seaman Linkbeck with his thoughtless act of vandalism by those of near college age that didn't wholly approve of only to spritely 13-month-old son. Linkbeck had just finished boot training at Great Lakes, Ill. Then he returned to Florida where he gathered his family, hitched a trailer containing their cherished possessions to the family car and was off for the West.

It would seem that it was fate or perhaps just coincidence that Lieutenant Keith Walton, one of Lineback's Canadian allies stationed handling dogs as he had at one time been a veterinarian's helper but this does not deter her from her. His seemed to be the very family Capt. Jenkins had in mind when he offered the house.

The Waltons come from Wolf Island, one of the largest of the Thousand Islands on the St. Lawrence River. This is their first overseas tour the Lt. Walton has been in the Canadian Air Force six years.

Before coming here they had been stationed in Alberta. Mrs. Walton is a school teacher by profession.

Family Services is able to operate efficiently because of people like Mrs. Walton who give so freely of their time and talents.

And so it was when Capt. B. J. Jenkins called Family Services, not looking for a house, or listing a rental, but knowing that someone had stolen a brick-and-mortar house in a neighborhood that seemed quite pleasant.

Oh yes, at the time of this writing, Capt. Jenkins' dog is still awaiting the blessed event!

Looking At Hollywood

FILM TO BE FOR COLUMBIA HOLLYWOOD. — I knew Lu Taylor wouldn't stay too long in the Swiss Alps, and sure enough she's planning a return to Hollywood in October and has her next picture all lined up. It'll be for Columbia, but nobody's talking — including her agent, Kurt Frings. She'll miss Eddie Fisher, who now wants to take on Broadway this fall, and has David Merrick shopping for a musical and good director.

Cameraman Leon Shamroy, on two month's vacation after spending a year in Rome photographing "Cleopatra," says, "I'm taking it in good old California, baby! We've got the most beautiful city in the world right here and don't know it. Rome's a mechanized medieval city — too many cars, too many millionaires."

He calls Lu Taylor "a great trouper," says Italian journalism is "the yellowest of yellow," and as for "Cleopatra" — the toughest assignment I've ever had."

Shamroy predicts the European picture cycle has "shot its wad" and Hollywood's about to come back into its own. He said: "We have got the greatest know-how in the world. We'd never have finished 'Cleopatra' without the help of 85 expert crewmen from Hollywood. Darryl Zanuck's return to Twentieth Century - Fox is a great shot in the arm — he's the only real picture maker left."

Despite all rumors, "The Lonely Stage," starring Judy Garland, is finished at a cost of 1.4 million dollars. Judy wrapped up the picture by singing Harold Arlen's new song, "I Can Go On Singing," at the London Palladium last week. Troubles they had, but the two young fellows who produced, Stu Millar and Lawrence Turman, gambled and won. They bet on talent and got it.

After "Jumbo" opens at the Music hall in New York City at Christmas time, Joe Pasternak is going to put the film under his arm and take a trip around the world with it. First stop — his native Hungary. He's not bragging, just wants everybody to see what Americans can do. Then in the spring he'll do another with the "Jumbo" star, Doris Day. "Say It With Flowers," an original by John T. Kelly.

Writer Charles Lederer, yanked back from his Paris vacation to finish the scenes for "Mutiny on the Bounty," takes off for Tahiti tomorrow to show the new pages to Marlon Brando. Both will be back in a week to start work. George Seaton, who's directing the retakes, is taking no money. It would be hard to put a price on the job, which could take one week or two. He's doing it as a favor to M-G-M. Brando gets $3,000 a day. He signed a contract for $500,000 against 10 per cent of the gross. So all the money he's collected to date — and it's a bundle — will be deducted from his percentage.

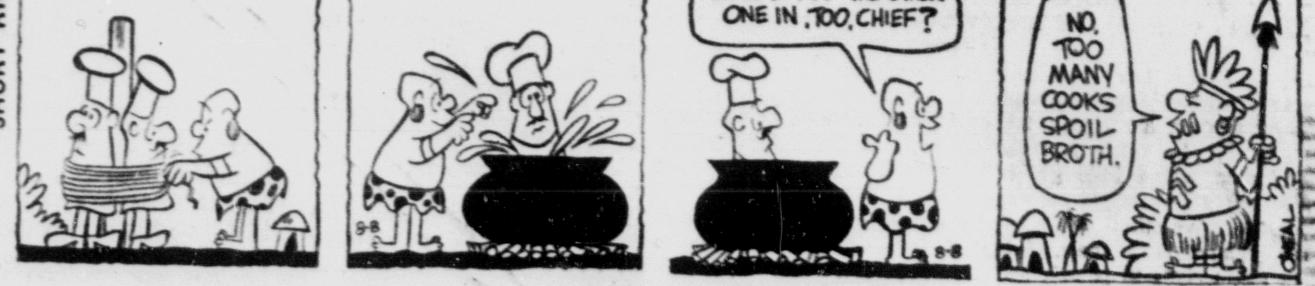

George Stevens called Monty Clift at his Caribbean hideaway about playing Judas in "The Greatest Story Ever Told" and offered to send him the script. "I've read the Book — it's good," said Monty. He'll be in Hollywood in a couple of weeks and will doubtless sign for the part.

Tammy Grimes is in London conferring with Ray Stark, who wants her for a dramatic play, "French Street." She'd do it first in London in October, later bring it to Broadway. If she consents, Stark will try to get her former husband, Christopher Plummer, to play opposite her. Failing that, Rex Harrison.

Market Opens Lower;
Steeper Losses Reported

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market opened lower today and the losses grew steeper throughout the morning hours.

The trading pace was a bit quicker than yesterday, when prices fell for the second time in eight sessions.

Many drug issues were particularly weak, apparently in response to continued unfavorable publicity, analysts believed Merck was off more than 2, Pfizer about 1 and Schering almost 1.

The rail section showed a big majority of minus signs as Wall Street began to think action by the administration will be necessary to avert a rail strike later this month.

Chesapeake & Ohio was off more than 3 at one point but recovered about one-third of the loss. One big C&O block of 22,300 shares sold 3% lower at 46. Fractionally lower were New York Central, Southern Pacific and Illinois Central.

More than half a dozen stocks included in the popular averages were marked ex-dividend and this also depressed the averages.

At noon the Dow Jones industrial average was off 3.26 at 589.66.

Aircraft issues were generally weaker with Boeing off almost 1% after reporting lower first half income than last year. Fractionally lower in this group were United Aircraft, Douglas and Lockheed.

Virginia Carolina Chemical preferred fell about 5 after setting a 1962 high yesterday. The company plans to recapitalize its way out of money owed preferred stockholders it goes home.

Javits, often a supporter of administration proposals, criticized President Kennedy for what he called "agonizing indecisive ness."

Kennedy said several weeks ago that he would study economic indicators, then decide whether to ask for an immediate tax cut to spur the economy. He has indicated he might announce a decision later this month.

The domestic economy "is moving in such a way as to present a clear and present danger of another recession," said Javits.

"The extraordinary way the President is seemingly transferring his leadership to committee chairmen on this tax cut issue only dramatizes his indecision," Javits declared in a speech prepared for delivery before the Senate.

"Instead of telling the nation seems more interested in telling the nation what committee chairmen of his own party, will approve," said the New York senator.

Corporate bonds edged higher on the New York Stock Exchange while Treasury bonds were a bit weaker in quiet trading.

Javits said his tax proposals would eliminate income taxes for persons earning less than $2,000 a year; would reduce maximum personal taxes from 91 to 62 percent; would drop corporation tax rates from 52 to 50 per cent and would include reductions for all other taxpayers with emphasis on the $2,000 bracket.

Congress headed into a new round of hearings with a joint Senate-House committee opening a public inquiry today into the economy's health.

Before the hearings got under way, a committee member, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., blasted policies of the Federal Reserve Board as "economy slow-down" policy.

"For the Federal Reserve Board to deliberately force up interest rates as high as it has been doing, is to throw sand into the engine," he said in a statement today.

Thus Proxmire went on record with some other committee members who have expressed concern that a tax cut or next year might result in a greatly increased budget deficit with little bolstering of the economy—unless the reserve board adopts lower-interest, easier-credit policies.

Federal Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. has defended the board's position, contending that interest rates must be pegged high enough so that U.S. capital won't be attracted abroad, which would aggravate the nation's balance of payments deficit.

Nearing the end of its hearings, the House Ways and Means Committee was scheduled to hear today from Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and Budget Director David Bell.

The businessman's view was given today by Ladd Plumley, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Plumley said the chamber's call for a quick, deep and permanent tax slash doesn't mean it has abandoned its goal a balanced budget.

In an address prepared for delivery before the Advertising Club of Washington, Plumley said the chamber would expect a tax cut to be coupled with a spending policy . . . which will produce a balanced budget.

On Monday, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg reported on one facet of the economy's health. He said the number of major labor market areas experiencing substantial unemployment fell from 51 in June to 48 in July—the lowest in two years. Areas in which idle rates shifted to less than 6 per cent of their work force were Spokane, Wash.; Muskegon-Muskegon Heights, Mich., and Utica-Rome, N.Y.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes . . . Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N. Y. (UPI)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma attacks.

This formula is so effective that it is the physician's leading asthma prescription—so safe when used as directed that now it can be sold without prescription in most states.

In graduation ceremonies, the baccalaureate service differs from the commencement exercises in that the former is a religious service usually held on the Sunday before commencement and the latter is the ceremony in which the diplomas are given out.

By MARY URBAN — 495-2143

The Annual Firemen's Picnic will be held Sunday Aug. 12 at 4 p.m. at the Black Forest recreational area. This picnic is for active firmen and their families. Everyone is to bring a covered dish, dessert or salad and table service. In case of rain the picnic will be held at the Community Hall. Games and a program are being planned for everyone.

The Country Auction held at the Community Church last Saturday was a big success. Almost $300 was raised and will go toward the building fund for the new church.

The secret is: Primatene combines 3 medicines in full prescription strength found most effective in combination for asthma distress. Each performs a special purpose.

So look forward to sleep at night, and freedom from asthma spasms.

Ground breaking for the new church will be held Aug. 19. After the service a basket lunch will be held outside. Each family is asked to bring its own picnic lunch. The new church will be built just west of the present structure.

The Rev. Nicholas Natelli, pastor of the Black Forest Community Church, is spending this week at La Foret in Black Forest as Dean of Christian Education Camp for the State of Colorado United Church of Christ. Mrs. Natelli is teaching at the school.

Allen Hutton, 14, suffered a cut on his right knee Saturday afternoon when the car in which he was riding struck another car in the rear at the intersection of Burgess Road and Black Forest Road.

State Patrolman Nathan Boals reported that Hutton was a passenger in a car driven by Robert L. McAfee, 21, of Dewar, Oklahoma when it struck the car of Henry F. Pottoff, 20, of Palisade. The boy was treated at the scene.

A public meeting of the Black Forest Athletic Association was held Friday evening at the Community Hall. The purpose of the meeting was to bring the parents of the children in the association activities more information on the association.

Dr. Harold Hobbs explained the desire of the association to obtain land from La Foret for an additional ball field.

A combined barbecue and dance was planned and the date set for Saturday Aug. 25 at the home of Dr. Harold Hobbs on the Elbert Road. The proceeds from this affair will go to the association. The public is invited. Committees were set up to handle publicity, music for the dance, food and concessions. Pies and cakes donated by the parents are left at the Black Forest Store.

Prices were set as follows: $1.00 for adults for the barbecue or $1.75 for both the barbecue and dance; children up to 15, 25 for the barbecue and 25 for children at the dance. All ball players will be admitted free to the dance and all ball players may go to the barbecue for children's prices.

Members of the Black Forest Sheriff's Posse will assist at the dance.

Discussion was held on new activities for the association. Dr. Hobbs will start touch and flag football soon.

It was decided that the members of the association go to the next two school board meetings en masse in an effort to institute athletics in the elementary school.

The first two convoys of Ft. Carson troops en route to the Field.

The 4th Field Hospital and U. S. Army Hospital will set up and staff first and stations at each field. The 1st Military Police Company will escort convoys with assistance from Colorado State Patrol and local traffic authorities.

Standby emergency vehicles have been located at the port of entry on U. S. 85-87 near Monument, Kline said.

In Denver the convoys have also been scaled to avoid conflict with late arrival trains at the railroad lines near Buckley Field.

At the Academy, the Swiss were met by Maj. James J. Vesel, chief of candidate advisory service then toured Arnold Hall, the Cadet Gymnasium, watched the band formation, and a demonstration at the Planetarium.

Maj. Robert Barretmet, cadet activities, who was born in Switzerland, spoke to the visitors in French.

The cadets wound up their Academy tour by inspecting the Division Noncommissioned Officers Academy.

Field offices are located at each of the four airfields from which division troops and equipment will be airlifted.

Lt. Col. Delmar Paugh, assistant chief of staff for operations and training, heads the group and center with a staff of 28 officers and 200 enlisted men.

Center headquarters staff includes Lt. Col. Reuben Horner, Major Montell Kyler, 1st Lt. Fredrick Burnerman and 1st Lt. Donald Yeazel.

Defending Champ Leads Contender In Horseshoes

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Defending champion Harold Renz of Sabina, Ohio, was unbeaten and leading at the halfway point of the National Horseshoe Pitching Championships here Monday night.

Renz had a 18-0 mark and a ringer percentage of 83 compared to 17-1 and 84 per cent for second-place Elmer Hohl of Wellsville, Ont.

Other leaders in the 36-player Class A championship flight included Paul Focht of Dayton (16-2), Ralph Maddox, Poca, W. Va. (16-2); Ted Allen, Boulder, Colo. (16-2), and Walter Cabel, New Madison, Ohio, (16-2).

An estimated 1,000 spectators took note of one big upset Monday. Charles Fortenberry of Knoxville, Tenn., defeated Allen, a 10-time national champion, 52-44. It was Fortenberry's only victory in the first 18 games of the championship flight.

Jerry Wilde won all the way in the second, seven-inning game, striking out 13 and allowing one run on five hits. Billings won it 4-1 although three of those runs were unearned.

Tonight, it's Idaho Falls at Billings, Great Falls at Magic Valley and Boise at Pocatello.

Garage Owners Host Annual State Picnic

The Independent Garage Owners of Colorado Springs were hosts Sunday at the annual state picnic for over 125 members of IGO which was held at the Pike Community Picnic Grounds.

Large delegations were present from Pueblo, Denver and Grand Junction, according to Henry Geringer, president of the local organizations.

Geringer also reported that the State Department of Revenue has asked the Colorado Springs group to help rewrite the state requirements for minimum brake safety

At a recent meeting, the following recommendation was proposed for the Revenue Dept.: for brake drums 10 inches and larger, a maximum turning of .900 of an inch, and for brake drums 10 inches and less, a maximum of .800 of an inch turning.

The dangerous practice of turning brake drums below minimum safety standards, Geringer said, is the cause for rewriting present standards for auto inspection. The local IGO was pleased, he added, to be called upon to help in correction of this practice.

Guadalcanal Marked Turn Of U.S. Pacific Campaign

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Staff Writer

clearly the place to do it was Guadalcanal.

Geographers knew Guadalcanal as a 2,500-square-mile island of mountains, jungle, and sandy beaches, peopled by dark, fuzzy-haired Melanesians, ruled by the British and noted for its coconut plantations.

The only sounds were the soft swish of water against the moving prows of the ships and the murmur of muted conversation among men of the 1st Marine Division huddled below decks in their area for the construction of a major airfield.

As the first streaks of dawn crawled up the eastern sky, the big guns of the cruiser Quincy crashed the overture and shells burst among the palms and jungle and Japanese camps on the island.

Moments later, green-clad Marines went over the side, scrambled down swaying cargo nets into its swamps crawled with germs of strange tropical diseases.

They knew not what awaited them, for they were the first.

The Navy communiqué, issued later the same day, Aug. 7, 1942, was terse and uninformative, yet it electrified a nation that was sinking into despair under the weight of defeat. It said:

United States naval and other forces have attacked enemy installations in the southeastern part of the Solomon Islands in force and the attacks are continuing.

After eight months of gallant stands and gallant retreats at Bataan, Wake Island, Singapore and the East Indies, America and her allies were at last starting the long road back.

It was some time before the precise point of attack emerged from the morass of rumor and secrecy. Then it became a household word: Guadalcanal.

On maps of the Pacific the Solomon Islands, a 900-mile long chain, sprawl atop the continent of Australia like an overhanging roof pointing directly at the allied lifeline between America and Australia.

The groping fingers of the Japanese empire, seemingly invincible, reached Guadalcanal at the three-month tip of the Solomon chain in June 1942 and coiled to spring south on the Australian flank.

Clearly, the time to stop them was the summer of 1942. And

Maneuver Details To Be Available, Allott Declares

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., said today he had been assured that full details of proposed Army maneuvers tentatively scheduled for southeastern Colorado would be available this week.

Allott said the Army agreed with him that an "incomplete" public relations job had been done, resulting in protests from ranchers in the area.

He said the Army emphasized that plans for such maneuvers were in the early stages. He said before any maneuvers were actually scheduled, every landowner involved would be contacted and specific questions answered.

"The people in the area simply want and are entitled to all the necessary information so that they may make a calm decision as to whether or not such maneuvers would be detrimental to their farming and ranching operations and to the general economic situation in the area," Allott said. He said the Army assured him it would hold the maneuvers only if the general atmosphere in the area was favorable.

The battle for Guadalcanal did not really begin for several days when the Japanese returned in three Germans suspected of stealing a Rembrandt self-portrait in last contingent of Japanese were Holland arrested at Interlaken last Saturday. Bern police announced Monday.

Marine casualties were 1,202 killed, 3,070 wounded. The Army lost 550 killed, 1,289 wounded. Some 28,580 Japanese died on the island.

Guadalcanal was the proving ground for the Marines in World War II.

There they learned the awful loneliness of the battlefield when the Navy was licked in the battle of Savo Island and for days they were left unprotected from enemy attacks by air and sea.

They learned from the enemy the tricks of jungle warfare.

They learned too that the Japanese were not invincible by meeting and hurling back the wild, noisy charges of the crack Ichiki detachment and the Sendai Division, the small brown men in baggy uniforms who rarely surrendered but fought to the death.

The lessons of Guadalcanal were carried on to other places with unfamiliar names on the bloody road to Tokyo—Tarawa, Peleliu, Iwo Jima. But always, Guadalcanal comes first.
